

Step-23: Technology

I am going to talk about Technology in the Torah, as well as the technology of today that is based on electricity, we know is used to make Light, and we know God is All Light without Darkness, therefore the Technology of today is called Satanic because it runs on Souls that everyone Buys & Sells with Treasonous Money by the Kilowatt, and since I cannot come up with another Energy Source other than Electricity, the Technology used in Trinary Sanctuary, must be Free to everyone, such that no one is Buying and Selling Souls in Trinary Sanctuary.

If you want to build Trinary Sanctuary you need to base the core energy supply on a vacuum and build the center of the Pyramid with air shafts that go up miles from its base, plus you need that to go below the base as well, so you start with drilling the shaft down into the ground, the entire foundation must sit on solid rock, you have 3 major events you need to Engineer for, the Pole Reversal is the first, because when the Earth realigns during the Pole Reversals the Earth will be covered in Water, when our Magnetosphere will go from being positive to being ground, when passing through the Equator in 2033, and the second is when our North Magnetic Pole will be at what we call the South Pole in 2061 completing a 180-degree pole reversal, and the third event is in 2103, this is when the Earth will be at its coldest, and most vulnerable for going Nova, and just on reason you base energy on vacuum, as long as you can produce Oxygen from Water, you can use the Vacuum to move air around the inner structure, if you can imagine an Air Shaft going deep down into Earth, and reaching as high up in altitude as you can, so you have the greatest differential in air pressure, you can hook the vacuum up to one end of the air supply system, on the other end, is an air intake, this air is taken from the lowest point it can in the pyramid, it is then filtered, warmed, and properly oxygenated, this system does not require any other source of power to operate, and you can use the Vacuum to run machines, vacuuming around the house, and so many other uses, that it is your main source for Energy, you are always guaranteed to have so much constant vacuum, and if the Earth goes Nova, you have a chance of surviving that, but you have to use the vacuum differently in Space, but the same principles can be applied, but you have to recirculate the air instead of venting it into space, and the vacuum will be much greater, but you do not have a differential of pressure any longer, you just have vacuum, so you have to reconfigure the way you use vacuum in space, so take this into account when building it, you have to think about a long term solution that can be maintained over time.

The Air supply is the heart of the entire complex, and must be the first technology you have to design, and if our Atmosphere vents into Space, we need to recondition the Air we breathe, we may need to mix other gases into it, like oxygen, and we want it filtered, and warmed so it does not freeze up vent gates used to divert air flow, plus you do not want any condensation in the air that can clog up the air ducts, and you have to be able to keep up with oxygen demand, so you need to work on Water to Hydrogen & Oxygen converters, you can use the Hydrogen to warm the air, and to produce pure Water and Electricity at the same time, and you do not want to pipe any gases very far if you can help it, if you want to use Hydrogen gas, have converters closer to where you need the gas, this way you only need power lines, water lines, sewage lines, at minimum, and need air ducts, and transportation tunnels used for transportation of people, pets, food, garbage, and so on, so you have to engineer all this technology, and base it on vacuum, so you can move mass amounts of trains in this vacuum driven train tunnel system, you can have vacuum on one side, and a pressurized air supply on the other, and use a magnetic lift system to move the trains at high speeds safely.

You will want to design vacuum driven wind turbines to generate electricity, understand it is just collecting free electrons out of the air intake, and there will be a lot of Static Electricity in the Air, so these generators are used to pull out all the Static Electricity in the Air, this is very important to your Air System, you will want to ionize the air, and you can use the Electricity generated by this system as a major power source for electricity, Lightning will be the second largest source of electricity, and another technology you need to design, you need a Lightning Rod, and you need to have a super capacitor it charges up, you need windings to slow down the frequency of the Lightning, the reverse of a Tesla Coil, you can use Earth as the Super Capacitor, just make an Earth Battery network designed to extract Lightning Strikes from the Earth itself, which is placed in glass containers to contain the Lightning, then using Copper windings you extract the energy you allowed to go to ground, to do this you need to design a fake ground, you can do this with very fast high current relays, you have a real ground connected through a load box full of copper and ash, in a glass container, the ash is just like Earth, meaning dirt, but it is inert, whereas Earth is basically ground rock, and the main ingredient is Silicone, Aluminum, and other minerals in the Earth itself, you can make your own, so you get a constant load, the ash will not make a good conductor, but the Earth should make a good conductor, you need to keep it moist, but not saturated with water, you will want to mix in iron, copper, aluminum, graphite, ground quartz crystals, ground rock, baking soda, and other conductors, to make a very good soil to conduct Lightning through, so the relays need to engage when power flows through them, disconnecting them from the real ground, and cutting off the Lightnings path to that ground, and that is how you convert Lightning into Electricity, and you want more sources of Electrical power, but these should be your main sources.

You need to get water from a nearby source, but not a source that runs under the Pyramid, nor can you dump sewage into anywhere that would contaminate your water, nor can it run under the Pyramid, you need to make sure you do not have a river flowing under the rock you build on since it can freeze, cracking the rock, so you need to think about water and sewage before you build anything, and why you should drill down deep underground, in the center of the Pyramid, to ensure you do not have water flowing under it, during Earthquakes those underground rivers can collapse, and that would be bad, so make sure the rock you build on is stable, and that you can get water nearby, and you will need to build a tunnel for a train to get to the source, without going outside, this is for maintenance, and in case it freezes over, so build it in a way it has power and air, and is secure so no one can use it to break into the pyramid, so make sure it is all underground, even if you have to bury it, in case of Earthquakes you need to be able to get around and fix things, and you may not be able to go outside.

The Technology you use to build Trinary Sanctuary, will make or break it as a project, so make sure you get it right the first time, and you have to find better ways to make Electricity, and Vacuum is one of the best ways I can think of, next to Lightning, but you might have to go miles to get a good spot for Lightning, so it is more like a network of Lightning Rod from miles around, and you do not want to base any of your Electrical needs on Solar, after the Sky Falls, it might be some time before that is viable again, but after the pole reversal, it will be hundreds of years before it will be possible to use solar technology, so you have to find alternative forms of Energy, and Nuclear is off limits, you do not want anything to do with it, nor Geothermal, the Earth is about to Super-Freeze, and you need to think about the Science of this event, before you start to build it, so understand what will happen if our Atmosphere vents, and to me, it is more like when, and we know that will be in 2033, how much it vents is unknown, but if it takes 6.66 minutes to start to regenerate our Magnetosphere, Sea Level will be like on top of Mount Everest today, around 33,333 feet in altitude, so you want to Engineer for what might happen, and you might survive it, but it is clear that the Technology required for Trinary Sanctuary, is going to be a first for the human race to build.

The living space, factories, and other areas, must all have the ability to be leveled after a major Earthquake, and this Technology will have to be Engineered into its structure, I envisioned Spheres called Pods, this gives one deck in the center that can span the full diameter of the sphere, and depending on its diameter, depends on how many floors it can have, but I figure this gives you a lot of room to Level, and that ability is a must, this whole structure needs to be Earthquake proof as possible, and all the Pods will require an Isolator and shock absorber, the Isolator is for Thermal, and Sound and the shock absorber is for Earthquakes.

The Pods are connected by tunnels that are equipped for trains, you want to use vacuum and air pressure, plus a magnetic lift and propulsion unit, there will be a walking access tunnel where all pipes and cables are routed through, plus a ventilation duct, these tunnels are round, the Engineering needs to be such that the trains are self-leveling, and walkways can be leveled, you have to keep in mind these are all set in concrete, so you want to make sure the structure is sound, meaning, the Steel supports are strong enough to withstand a 10 Magnitude for 10 minutes, you do not want your concrete to break, as such, a lot of new Technology goes into this part of the construction, you need to have everything welded or bolted into place, and plated to prevent rusting, before the concrete is poured, so you have to engineer all this in, and find a way to use Robots to build it, this is for safety, but more for how you will have to build it after the Atmosphere vents, you will not be going outside for a long time, and must be able to continue to build, for future generations, so you need to know your limits, how tall can you build it, how wide does it need to be to build it that tall, and how can we continue to get resources after the Atmosphere vents, you will need to mine for Steel, Aluminum, Cement, and other material used in building, and manufacturing, in a way this is just like building for outer space, or underwater, after this event happens, we are limited in where we can go, if you can build tunnels between different Trinary Sanctuary Outpost, you can share resources and make use of different resources that linking outpost can provide, you might find you have to build in places in order to be able to share those resources, or have tunnels that lead to those resources, so you will want to consider underground mining operations fully Robotic, plus you need a place to process and refine it, therefore, this is new technology required for Trinary Sanctuary to survive the End of Time.

Food is a major part of Engineering for Trinary Sanctuary, you will want livestock, as well as vegetables and fruits, and you have to grow all these in Pods, and you need to have them automated as much as possible with Robotics, you do not want anyone to have to manually slaughter animals, you want Robots to do all that work, and be safe for Humans to be around it, so you have a lot of new technology required for food production.

You have to engineer Lighting, you need to Grow Lights for Plants, you need a specific type of Lights for Humans and Animals, plus you want to add Artificial day and night transitions for both humans and animals, in some parts, while factories must be well lite, as well as public access ways, and trains, so Lighting is going to be a huge thing to consider since you want to minimize your Electricity requirements, you will want to use LED lights, so you will need the capability to make LED lights, as you need to make everything you will ever need, and why linking multiple Trinary Sanctuaries will help out, you can better optimize resources.

You will need to make vehicles that can operate on top of Mount Everest, flying will be out of the question for hundreds of years, maybe thousands, our Atmosphere will take a long time to replenish to the point it would support flight, and there will be very little life on the surface of the Planet, no animals, no insects, no birds, or other creatures we have now, so if you want to save those species, you need to build room for them to live, so you have to think about all these things you will have to build, to have them, when you need them, and you have to think about all life and not just human lives.

If you want to survive the End of Time, you will need a good plan, and you will need to build a place that can survive all the Events that are coming our way, and decide on who lives and who dies, because there is no way to build enough space for everyone, given we only have 6 years before the Sky Falls, and 6 years after that, so we have to be realistic if anyone is going to survive this, and you will need the World to get behind this, or it is doomed from the start, so it is clear you will have to limit the Age group you allow in, and set the cut off low, new born to 19, even then you will not be able to save everyone, but you allow over 19, and you will not be able to save many percentage wise, it is a number game now, and reality sucks, but as an Adult, I can say I will sit this one out, and so should all Adults, we need to build this for them, but let them move in without us Adults, only then will there be any hope for the Human Race to Survive this event, you build it for everyone, and you will not be able to build enough room for them, so then what, you have a bunch of mad Adults, you let them know from the start, that no Adults are allowed, and then when you run out of room, you only have a bunch of disappointed children, and we do not need to worry about them doing anything crazy, as much as we would with adults, and why I would ban them from the start, we all know we cannot build enough rooms for even our children to survive this, and never use a Lottery System, that is not fair to anyone, you have to pick everyone that goes based on their ability to contribute to Trinary Sanctuary, you have to make the hard decisions based on giving them the best chance to survive, and it cannot be based on Classes, and Nationality, Color of Skin, and all that, needs to be even, and you need to account for Neurodiversity so no one gets left out, and you need to pick people that can learn to do all the task required, plus they need to have mates, this is harder to plan, but a must, you want to make sure all the Males can have one Female mate, and you cannot plan on same sex mating, but it will happen, so you really need to think about this plan.

I have spent most of my life thinking about the End of Time, originally I was thinking the Atmosphere would not vent till 2061, till it occurred to me that the Equator is where it will be at ground, thus will be when the Atmosphere vents, so I was thinking we had more time, not that it would matter, no one cared back then and nothing has changed, no one cares if the human race goes extinct, why I care is beyond me, they have not proven they deserve to survive after 160 years of Treason, and why I never really tried very hard to wake them up, stupid Sheep are better off dying in their sleep, not one of them is worth saving, but my Grandchildren are worth saving, so I am doing this for them, and hope others feel the same way about children, they are not guilty of Treason, and do not deserve to die for it, so this plan is for our Children.

The Technology we use today needs upgrading to the Technology we need to build Trinary Sanctuary, the requirements for raw material to build this is going to be huge to say the least, so it all comes down to if everyone believes the human race is worth saving, because the cost is going to be more than anyone can afford, and why Money cannot be used, there is not enough of it, and once we can agree how stupid underground is, we can move on to something less insane, but not till then, because you have a lot of Stupid People who believe they are a Genius, well I have news for anyone who believes they are not retarded, why am I the only one talking about this, out of Billions of people on this Planet, and I am the only one talking about this, so do not ever try to sell me on what a Genius yew are, go sell crazy somewhere else, the human race has proven what stupid animals they are, they have no clue as to what is even going on, to stupid to understand Science, or understand Religion is about Serving Satan, everyone knows about Anagrams, but no one wants to talk about the Santa Clause, that Sheep with Horns drenched with the Blood of the other Sheep it slaughtered, the human race is sick, nothing but Satanic Sheep, so getting them to think will be a miracle, all they will do is deny all this, proving what Sheep they are, people do not like being called Sheeple, but they are the ones who took the Mark of that Beast, and it is the Torah calling you Sheep for doing that, I am just telling you what the Torah says, considering none of you are Intelligent enough to read and understand it yourself, so most Sheep will not want anything to do with Trinary Sanctuary, so it will be an uphill battle to get it built, and get the Technology built for it as well.

If the Human Race wants to Survive the End of Time, they will all have to agree on how, and that is never going to happen in time unless you have some type of plan to explain to people, and it must be realistic considering our timeline, so you have to decide who lives in these complexes and who does not before you build them, and everyone needs to help build them if you plan on saving anyone, so this is not an easy task, and why I believe the Human Race will go Extinct, because I do not believe they will do anything to prepare, and that no one will have any interest in Trinary Sanctuary, because there is not enough time to build it for everyone, and this will lead to major problems, but cannot be avoided at the same time, lying to people to avoid this is, is insane, but what is going on right now, all because Stupid People believe that Underground Cities are a good idea, just like Nuclear Power Plants were a good idea, Meltdown.

To fully understand the Technology required for Trinary Sanctuary, you have to look at all the Events we have to face, we have the Sky Falling in 2027, so we need to have the Air System fully operational, and that is just 6 years from 2021 when I wrote this, the next event is when our Atmosphere vents, and that is when all the pods must be completed, and that is just 6 years after the Sky Falls in 2033, and by 2103, you need to have as much nailed down as possible, and hope the Earth does not go Nova, and why the Next Step is number 24, where I talk about the Future.
